The Stone Temple Pilots

Founded in 1990, the Stone Temple Pilots, STP, gained much popularity with their fame skyrocketing to superstar status around 1993. People ranging from all ages have heard of and still enjoy STP's music today. These same people attend concerts all across America, and the world, as STP music remain a vital force even now.

Their songs are heard on radio stations every day. There are many active social media groups that focus solely on Stone Temple Pilots music, Scott Weiland, and STP lore. The well known story of Scott Weiland, original STP lead singer, is what makes a tribute band of them so certainly viable today.

The Stone Temple Pilots Tribute Band Wicked Garden

The Stone Temple Pilots Tribute Band Wicked Garden, #TSTPTBWG, is a recently formed national act. New to the tribute band scene, there only a few reviews: #smashtemple on Instagram writes, "You guys really nailed it as far as sticking as true as possible to those original songs. A 10/10!" Another follower notes, "A fan for life and beyond." Many others have heard the demos and anxiously await the return of live shows so they may see them play live.

The band's musicians are professionals joined together after extensive national digital auditions, with a few finalists chosen for in-person auditions. After meeting and performing together, the band is now comprised of hand-selected, talented and dedicated entertainers with decades of pooled experience.

The singer set out to capture Scott Weiland's vocal traits while retaining his own voice. The musicians backing him, have spent countless hours practicing and performing. The attention to detail and nuance of the original STP songs is what sets them apart. Four artists are bringing the powerful sounds of Stone Temple Pilots to a new generation of fans.

The set list has been given great consideration to make certain that the songs audiences hear live are the same ones they have grown to love and enjoy over the three decades of Stone Temple Pilots music. The show opens with well known radio songs, the tempo changes to love songs and acoustic songs and then the band closes the show with some of STP's most popular rockers to exhilarate audiences even more. This roller coaster ride of STP songs will leave audiences wanting more.

STPTBWG's innovative, computer-based presentation method ensures each and every show has the same superior production quality regardless of the venue's unique sound characteristics. Using state of the art technology and software, the band always delivers a consistent live sound.
